GOOSE CREEK CHURCH

Story of God,..

When we enter into Scripture we find a loving and holy God creating and pursuing us. From the Old Testament to the New, God's story is unfolding. As God's story unfolds we find the cross, repentance, love, and our own invitation. Living out the Christian life is challenging, but it is meant to be done in community! We want to be that community!

Our Story?

Goose Creek Church will be a light in the Charleston area (84% unchurched). We will help create racial reconciliation, increase biblical literacy, and grow community within the Church.

So bring your faith, bring your questions, bring yourself and do community with Goose Creek Church—as we learn to live out the story of God together!

Story

We at Goose Creek Church believe that connecting in simple yet diverse ways will help foster environments for people with questions and at all levels of their faith.

When you step back and think of how people really connect it always involves story. When God connects it is the same way. I love the expression ‘the God of our Fathers,’ rekindling the idea that God has been moving in times and stories past through Abraham, Jacob, and more. Through story most of the Scriptures are explained (narrative), Jesus connects through parables (moralistic stories). In today's culture we have gotten use to sharing information and data– not story. We at Goose Creek Church want to share our lives with you – and this starts by sharing our stories of who we are. We also want to grow in God with you – one of our mottos is God's story and our stories combine for His glory.
